- 1. Wander Abroad Foundation: For many college students, the idea of studying abroad is a far off fantasy that is much too expensive to make a reality. There's also an issue with time — many working students can not afford to take off for an entire semester to study abroad. Your donation to Wander Abroad helps grant deserving college students a chance to gain global exposure by providing them with their first passport, international flight, and short-term study abroad experience.

- 2. Sustainable Travel International: Tourism is a significant contributor to climate change. Every time you fly on a plane, stay in a hotel, or ride in a taxi carbon emissions are being generated. While there are many ways that you can and should minimize your carbon footprint while traveling, no matter how sustainable your travel habits are, certain carbon emissions are unavoidable. Sustainable Travel International is a global not-for-profit organization that promotes responsible tourism and helps travelers mitigate their climate impact. Your donation to Sustainable Travel International will help offset the carbon footprint of your travels by supporting projects that reduce CO2 emissions, while creating important benefits for communities and biodiversity around the world.
